"SOLID HAVANAS."

Frauds Practiced in the Flavoring of Cigars—Dragged and Painted Wrappers, and the Evils Thereof.

Philadelphia Times.

"Are all cigars adulterated?"

"Not all. The most common fraud is in the flavoring, and this opens the way to numberless devices. Some may not be injurious to health, but a great many of them are. They are principally prepared from gums, rosins, alcoholic spirits and some of the ethereal extracts, such as extracts of valerian, tinctures of tolu, benzoin, muriate of valerian, acetate of valerian, licorice extract, powdered licorice-root, Jamaica rum, port wine, alcohol sugar, Tonqua beans, orange peel, common black molasses, cinnamon essence, laudanum, and nobody knows what else. Some of the cigars made by these adulterants have nearly upset me when I smoked them. Why don't smokers demand a pure article made of the good old Pennsylvania stock, such as we get from Key West for solid Havana? Then they might enjoy a decent smoke, and not have to take the sickening stuff, filled up with licorice and rum, which will tempt a man to chew one-half while he is smoking the other, in this way getting the full benefit of all the nicotine that collects in the end of the cigar.

"About six years ago the idea got into the head of some of our smart smokers that they must have all dark cigars. No doubt they thought they came nearer to looking like imported stock, so dark cigars now are all the rage. Anybody acquainted with the tobacco business knows that not all tobacco in a lot will be of one color, and no matter how long it is kept it will not become darker. Perhaps they thought the manufacturers would throw away the light tobacco. But they did no such thing. They colored the wrapper. It makes no difference about the filler; the smoker don't see that, and if the wrapper is dark he is happy. He imagines that the color makes the strength. Men come into a store and ask for a mild cigar. Give them a light-colored cigar and they go away satisfied, though it may be strong enough to knock down a horse. But the wrapper is light and the smoker's imagination does the rest.

"The demand for dark wrappers brought the 'resweating' process into use. This makes tobacco as nearly rotten as it can well be made without destroying it entirely. Here more drugs come into play. Among these are ammonia, vinegar and sour red wine. A solution of boiled tobacco stems is also used. The leaves are dipped into this solution and put into a room where they are cooked by steam until they are black enough to make wrappers to suit the tastes of those who are looking for strong cigars. Many other drugs are used, but with all this the cigars will not all be dark enough, so it is necessary to adopt another means, and the worst of all, that is dyeing and painting."

"Painting?" asked the writer, in amazement.

"Let me show you what I mean." And the cigar man took an innocent looking, dark, glossy cigar from a box and lifted the wrapper with his penknife. Under the lap of the wrapper and on the inside the color was several shades lighter than that shown on the outside of the cigar. Then wetting the end of his finger he rubbed it over the wrapper. The result was that the end of his finger assumed the color of the cigar. "Of all the nastiness practiced by the trade this is the worst, as the most of these paints give the smoker a sore mouth from the strong alkalies necessary to overcome the oil in the tobacco. A large amount of soda and ammonia is used to cut the oil. For coloring they take extract of logwood, nutgalls; alum for a mordant, sugar or gum arabic for a varnish, and probably fifty more ingredients, all more or less injurious to health. To-day cigars are not only dyed and painted, but several machines have already been patented to do the work. One machine consists of two boards. One is covered with a sponge and the other with canvas. The sponge is saturated with the coloring liquid and the cigars placed on the canvas-covered board, then are rolled between the two until they are covered with the dye stuff, when they are rolled between two cloth covered-boards to remove the surplus, after which they are allowed to dry. They are then full-fledged solid Havanas."

The reporter broke open the painted fraud and there was a handful of short, damp shreds of strong-smelling tobacco, a couple of little sprigs of which were genuine Havana, and a lot of powdered substance. The latter was licorice powder. The whole bunch formed a ten-cent Havana.

Peter the Great and Orloff.

H. Sutherland Edwards, in Harper's Magazine.

Peter the Great is a many-sided figure, and such a huge one that to view him from all points would involve the making of a very considerable circuit. It would be easy to show that he was a coarse sensualist, and he had many of the tastes of a mere barbarian. He drank to excess, and delighted in such practical jokes as serving up live rats and mice in a pie-dish covered over with the usual paste. When he was in England, his favorite exercise consisted in charging with a wheelbarrow a trimly-cut quickset hedge, which had at one time formed the joy of its garden-loving proprietor. He not only sentenced to death, but apparently himself killed the disaffected son whom he had thrown into prison, and who perished there.

Whether Peter was what is called "good" need scarcely be considered, and certainly cannot be decided. Exhorted on his death-bed to repent of some very bad actions which he had undoubtedly committed, he said that God would judge him, not by isolated deeds, but by the general tenor of his life. He was far more remarkable for energy in every possible direction than for piety or any sort of moral quality. He did not, however, like killing the wrong man; and when he was decapitating with his own hand the rebellious strelitzes, or "archers," who, detesting his innovations from the west, had, during his absence from Russia, risen in insurrection against him, he hesitated to strike one bold young soldier who advanced gayly toward the block, exclaiming, "Make room here!" and kicking on either side the fallen heads which stopped the way. "This man will be of use to me," thought Peter. He spoke a few words to him, pardoned him, and gave him a commission in one of the regiments that he was forming.

The forgiven one proved worthy of his pardon. His name was Orloff, and his descendants have often shown the same reckless daring, which, as exhibited by the founder of the family, made so striking an impression on the mind of Peter. The Russian system of government has been described as "despotism tempered with assassination," and the Orloffs, as if mindful of their ancestor in his mutinous days, have not always ranged themselves on the side of despotism. But, on the whole, they have served the Russian government faithfully and unscrupulously; now burning the Turkish fleet in the bay of Tchesme, through the agency of newly invented fire-ships, taken into action by English captains; now, the more surely to betray her, professing the most ardent affection for the unfortunate Princess Tarakanoff, who was to be delivered by her pretended lover into the hands of her enemy the Empress Catherine; now, under the Emperor Paul, starting, at the head of a force of Cossacks and horse-artillery, on an expedition to Khiva, with British India as final objective.

The Largest Fleece Ever Shorn.

Detroit Post and Tribune.

It is stated that the largest fleece ever recorded in the United States at a public shearing was taken a few days ago at Lansing, at the meeting of the Michigan Merino-Sheep Breeders' association. It was from a two-year-old ram, Diamond, owned by A. T. Short of Coldwater, was grown in 363 days, and weighed forty-one pounds and three ounces.

A WELSH CLASSIC.

[H. H. Ballard.]

An unlettered clergyman wanting a place,
(His manners were genial and pleasant his face)
Received a kind letter inviting him down,
To preach to a church in a large country town.

The town was uncultured, old-fashioned and plain;
The principal business was harvesting grain,
And none of the church members ventured to speak
A word of the Hebrew, or Latin or Greek.

For this very reason they wished all the more
A scholar well grounded in classical lore;
While a candidate might just as well stay away
If he didn't quote Hebrew at least once a day.

The divine about whom this odd story was told,
By the "Times" of Manhattan, was cunning and bold,
And knowing they wished for a classical man,
Though he didn't know Latin, he hit on a plan.

For he thought "We shall see how much shrewdness avails,
Though I cannot read Greek, I'm a native of Wales;
If a few Welsh expressions I cautiously use,
It may rival the Hebrew in pleasing the pews.

On the critical day, with exceptional grace,
With well-attuned voice, and well-controlled face,
He read from the Bible a passage or two,
And remarked "My dear friends, this translation won't do.

To be sure 'tis correct, but if beauty you seek,
Hear the rhythmical sound of original Greek!"
Then boldly a medley of Welsh he recited,
And marked the effect on his hearers benighted.

The children gazed up with a wondering stare,
Their mothers assumed an intelligent air,
While the deacons all nodded, as much as to say,
That Greek was by far the more excellent way.

A still bolder venture he hazarded next,
By a curious way of announcing his text:
"These words, as my hearers have noticed of course
Have lost nearly all their original force.

In the Hebrew how clearly the thought flashes out,"
And more of his Welsh he proceeded to spout;
When what was his horror to spy near the door,
A jolly old Welshman, just ready to roar!

Overcome with remorse and foreseeing the shame,
Exposure would bring to his reverend name,
The preacher's mad impulse at first was to run,
But the Welchman's round face so brimming with fun.

Suggested a possible plan of escape,
Which none but a terrified parson could shape;
He bravely confronted that dangerous smile,
And coolly continued his sermon awhile,
Till at length without showing the least agitation,
He rallied himself for a final quotation:

"The rendering here is decidedly wrong,
Quite different thoughts to the Chaldee belong;"
Then Welchman in pulpit to Welshman in pew,
In the barbarous dialect they alone knew,

Cried "Friend! By the land of our fathers, I pray,
As you hope for salvation, don't give me away!"
The joke was so rich, the old Welshman kept still;
And the classical parson is preaching there still.

On Wall Street.

George Alfred Townsend.

I was talking a day or two ago with a gentleman who sold his seat in the New York stock exchange about a year and a half past. Said I: "What do you think about Wall street?"

"I congratulate myself on getting the highest price but one or two ever received for a seat in the stock exchange. I got $50,000 down."

"What could you buy your seat back for now?" said I.

"For $25,000, and perhaps for $20,000."

Said I: "Why are not seats sold at present so that we can get some idea of their worth?"

"To be frank about it," replied my friend, "they are not sold because nobody will buy them. Wall street has got the dry-rot. The large constructive operators like Gould, Field, etc., got ready to go away some time past, but now even the bears are jumping the street, seeing no trade even for jumping on the securities that are already down. Cammack is going away."

"What do you think," said I to this person, "about Russell Sage?"

"He is the biggest skin in Wall street," said my friend. "I see that you were imposed on the other day by somebody who talked of Sage as a man of some chivalry. He hasn't got a bit. He is penurious and mean to the last degree. It is true that he does not quarrel, because that would cost something. He snarls a little to his clerks. He is one of the men who have degraded Wall street and driven business out of it by his system of puts and calls, which is a sort of bucket-shop opertion. Instead of attending to the purchase and sale of stocks, like a normal and regular operator, he has been selling us insurances or 'hedges,' and has managed to pick up millions by that smart yet vicious vice. Whichever way you trade with him you are pretty sure to lose, and hence Wall street is avoided by public opinion, by the public, and finally by the gamblers themselves. I do not believe it will resuscitate," said my friend, "for several years to come. I think there is a process going on to make all those fellows down there get to work in some way and stop living on bladders and bubbles."

Growth of Population.

Chicago Tribune.

Among other causes that will profoundly affect the future of this country is the rapid absorption into private hands of the arable public lands that have for a century been the bait that has drawn the people of Europe to our shores. By the end of this century, in seventeen years or less, the cream of our public domain will be skimmed off. The great attraction for the foreign immigrant, the opportunity to get a farm of 160 acres for nothing, will be gone forever. Homeseekers crowded out of Europe will have to go to Australia and south America; perhaps a few will find lodgment in Southern Africa, but that continent, so far as it has uncovered itself, does not offer the cramped masses of Europe the so genial foothold they have found in America. It does not lie on the great east and west line of Indo-European march.

There are signs already to be seen of crowding in this country. The reclaiming of swamp lands all through the west, even the underfilling and draining of our Illinois farms, the immense operations to reclaim the swamps of Florida, the willingness to take up with the irrigable lands of the far west, the hungry looks cast on Naboth's vineyard in the Indian Territory by the white men—these are all indications that the glorious expansion of the last hundred years, which has brought an incalculable amount of wealth, happiness, and freedom to the human race, is beginning to slow up, and that it will not be long before we feel the contraction which made life in Europe harder and harder from the middle ages down to the date when the relief of the overflow to America really began.

The Time to Dance.

An old colored preacher in Atlanta, Ga., was lecturing a youth of his fold about the sin of dancing, when the latter protested that the Bible plainly said: "There is a time to dance." "Yes, dar am a time to dance," said the dark divine, "and it's when a boy gits a whippin' for going to a ball."

DON'T give up and say there is no help for Catarrh, Hay Fever and Cold in the head, since thousands testify that Ely's Cream Balm has entirely cured them. Price 50 cents.

Apply into nostrils with little finger.

MANY persons in Pittston and vicinity are using Ely's Cream Balm, a Catarrh remedy, with most satisfactory results. A lady down town is recovering the sense of smell which she had not enjoyed for fifteen years. She had given up her case as incurable. Mr. Barber, the druggist, has used it in his family and commends it very highly. A young Tunkhannock lawyer, known to many of our readers, testifies that he was cured of partial deafness.—Pittston, Pa., Gazette, August 15, 1879. June6-deod-w2t

The Only Safe Gasoline Stove,

THE LYMAN!

This Stove cannot be filled while it is burning, as the act of filling will extinguish the flame. This does away with the only danger in the use of a Gasoline Stove.

We sold The Lyman last season, and it was found to be a perfect Cook Stove in all respects, being a PERFECT BAKER.

Many persons having other makes of Gasoline Stoves have not found them satisfactory bakers, and have been led to think the trouble was with their oven, while the real trouble would be found in the burner not giving sufficient heat to brown the article baked.

The Lyman will produce more heat than others, and this is shown from the fact that the largest sized oven requires only one burner to be used in baking.

We sell it entirely on its merits and guarantee it to do as represented, or the money will be refunded.

FACTS FOR HOUSE-KEEPERS

U. S. Department of Agriculture,
Washington, D. C., Mar. 31, 1882.

Syracuse Baking Powder Co.

GENTLEMEN:—I send you the result of my analysis of the following Baking Powders:

NAME OF POWDER.	Per cent of carbonic acid in powder.	Cubic inches of carbonic acid gas in one ounce of powder.	Per cent of starch in each powder.	Powder that contains ammonia.
TIP TOP	14.40	134.80	None.
Pearl	10.31	95.30	14.94	Pearl.
Dr. Price's	11.42	106.00	23.43
Royal	10.79	100.89	28.23	Royal.
Horsford's	10.70	99.00	29.38
Snow Flake	7.61	70.40	34.60	Snow Flake.

The last five contain, as will be seen, a large percentage of starch. The TIP TOP is composed only of pure cream of tartar, bi-carbonate of soda and the white of eggs, and is the best Baking Powder I have ever examined, in my opinion.

PETER COLLIER, Ph. D.

Strange as it may seem the Pearl, Dr. Price's Cream, Royal, Horsford's and the Snow Flake Baking Powders are NOT "absolutely pure," as represented, but are adulterated with common laundry starch, to such an extent that every purchaser of a pound of either of these pays from 7 to 17 cents for about 1-4 pound of starch (the ordinary cost of which is one cent.)

THE TIP TOP IS MADE ONLY OF

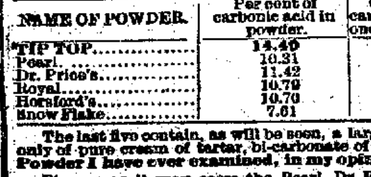

Pure Grape Cream Tartar, Finest Bi-Carbonate of Soda and the Whites of Eggs.

Try it, and learn the superiority of THE TIP TOP over starch. It requires one-third less, and is one-third stronger than any other Baking Powder made. Manufactured by the SYRACUSE BAKING POWDER CO., Syracuse, N. Y.

HAMSHER & MOSSER, Propri'trs.

DECATUR, ILLINOIS.

THE Canadian Pacific railway is completed from Port Arthur, on Lake Superior, to a point 600 miles west of Winnipeg—a total distance of 1095 miles.

THE Ohio greenbackers held their state convention yesterday, with an attendance of about forty persons, but in spite of the discouraging circumstances the convention went ahead and nominated a full ticket.

CHICAGO is having a great dog-show, and the prize takers are designated by the papers, "distinguished dogs." Not all of this species, however, are on exhibition at Chicago, nor do all of them go on four feet.

THE Harper bill came up in the senate yesterday on the order of second reading, and after numerous amendments had been proposed and promptly voted down it was ordered to a third reading by a vote of 28 yeas to 18 nays.

THERE will be a general verdict of "got his dues" rendered by public opinion with reference to the killing of Nicholas L. Dukes, at Uniontown, Pa., last evening, however much the manner of his unlawful taking off may be regretted. The full particulars will be found in our news columns.

THE Garfield papers, now in the possession of Prof. Hinsdale, are to be published, and rumor says that some of them are of such a character as will create a profound political sensation. Among them is said to be certain correspondence between the late President and prominent New York politicians, concerning the appointment of Collector Robertson, which, if made public, will be well calculated to re open the old Blaine and Conkling fight, by revealing some things which have been charged and denied by different parties to the controversy.

AN exchange thus states the situation in Ohio in a nutshell. "The Republicans of Ohio are not afraid to tell the liquor dealers that they must help to pay the costs which their traffic entails upon the state; nor are they afraid to meet the tariff issue boldly and fairly on its merits. The people of Ohio, by defeating the Republican party this year, would defeat themselves. By the election of the Republican ticket this year the people of Ohio will simply compel the Democrats to do in 1884 what the Republicans propose to do in 1883. In Ohio, as elsewhere, the two parties travel the same road, but the Republicans take the lightning express while the Democrats patronize the gravel train, and spend a great deal of time on the side tracks."

THE long mooted question as to how much whisky a man may drink and yet be capable to perform jury service was settled at Washington yesterday by Judge Wylie, who, when one of the star route jury took a fit in court, instructed the bailiff in charge to allow the juror two drinks per day, but set a precedent for other judges in stipulating that the bottle must not be circulated among the other jurors The one who took the fit is said to be in the habit of imbibing quite freely, and his sickness is attributed to a cutting off of his usual potations The meat of Judge Wylie's decision, therefore, is that a juror who is liable to take fits when deprived of his regular allowance of grog may have two jiggers a day, in the discretion of the court, but that any bodily affliction of a less serious or alarming character will not operate as an excuse even for a judicial "smile."

Condition of Corn.

Returns received at the Department of Agriculture, represent the condition of corn as far from flattering. There is considerable complaint concerning the inferior quality of seed corn, and much of the seed purchased outside the state was no better than that grown at home. The cold, wet season has had much to do with the poor stand of corn, as good seed, under such unfavorable conditions, would not have germinated well. There has been an unusual amount of replanting, and a considerable area will be planted in corn in June in sections of the state where the heavy continued rains have delayed planting. In all of the central counties, the condition, June 1, indicates less than three-fourths of an average yield per acre of corn, except the following: Adams, 78; Calhoun, 80; Champaign, 86; Clark, 91; Coles, 81; Cumberland, 83; DeWitt, 93; Douglas, 82; Edgar, 92; Ford, 82; Greene, 90; Jersey, 80; Logan, 89; Macon, 77; Macoupin, 88; McLean, 83; Menard, 75; Montgomery, 80; Morgan, 76; Piatt, 89; Sangamon, 85; Schuyler, 80; Shelby, 88; and Vermilion, 120; but the acreage is 106, as compared with that of last year.

THE astronomers who look at things through telescopes, declare that the abundant storms and rains of this season are due to spots on the surface of the sun, which are unusually large and numerous at present. Cant they "knock the spots off?"

The Case Well Put.

The Kansas City Journal says of the Iowa Democratic plank favoring "tariff for revenue only, by a gradual but persistent reduction of revenue duties." In other words, as long as any industry receives any benefit on account of import duties, each successive Congress must cut such protection down until the whole system is destroyed.

How would this scheme of persistent reduction affect the laboring man? The Democrats have said themselves that the manufacturers must have cheaper labor or cheaper raw material, and the Iowa scheme would simply result in producing cheap labor by a slow, torturing process. It says to the workers of the country, we will allow you to get such wages as the tariff this year will allow you, but next year we propose to let you down a little, and thus we propose to continue until we have got you down to a level with the wages in the old world. Does this scheme take into consideration the ability of any of the industries to bear such reduction? Does it attempt to conform to circumstances? Does it ask whether this or that industry will be ruined by the process? Does it ask whether our workmen are expected to compete with wages at $7.50 a year in India? Not at all. It simply means that as long as our tariff duties, whatever they are, limit or prohibit the importation of goods or products from any part of the world, just so long must the work of reduction go on. It means a blind race after free trade, the expenses of which must be paid in yearly installments by the labor and capital of the country.

If the capitalists and manufacturers believed that the Democrats would be permitted to inaugurate such a policy, the property in this Nation would depreciate at a rate that would astonish the men who know all about the theory of trade and traffic, but seldom accomplish any practical results.

Letter from Kansas

EDS. REPUBLICAN: I have just returned home from my short visit to your county and my former home in Whitmore township, found everything so backward to what it is here in Kansas. I was a little delicate about telling how far advanced our crops were, but I have sent you a few straws of oats, which is only a sample of my 80 acre patch; corn is far ahead of anything I saw in Illinois or Missouri, and wheat is the best I ever saw; produce of all kinds is good; stock is in splendid condition; weather warm and wet; plenty of land buyers, but few sales, as we earnestly believe that Kansas is the blooming rose of America.

Very respectfully yours,

WILLIAM STROPE.

Lone Tree, McPherson Co., Kan., June 8.

THE Pennsylvania Legislature has left a lasting impression on the politics of that State. During its session there were continually occurring quarrels, disturbances, and word-squabbles that were more characteristic of blackguards than members of a reputable judicial body, while not a little of its legislation was of a sort to shame the State. But the crowning disgrace was reserved for the closing hours. One member in a fit of anger emptied a pitcher of ice-water over the Speaker, whereupon that officer ran upon the offending member, chewed his thumb up, and offered to bet $500 that he could wipe up the floor with the body of any man in the gang. Penn's woods will not echo with the pæans of glad ness of a rejoiced community doing honor to the intellectual exploits of its representative solons.

MAYOR HARRISON thinks that not more than 500 saloons in Chicago will take out the $500 license, and that all the others will take out the $150 beer license and proceed to sell spirits under it. He then notifies all the world, including the saloon keepers, that he will be powerless to prevent this fraud. It is thus evident that Carter Harrison is freely disposed to aid and abet the violation of the law, notwithstanding his oath of office. What is to be thought of such a man?

A BLACK CALENDAR.

Dukes, the Murderer, Slain by His Victim's Son.

Five Shots Did the Deadly Deed—Dark Crimes Elsewhere—Self-Slayers—General News.

UNIONTOWN, PA., June 14.—The slayer of Capt. Nutt is himself slain, and now lies lifeless in the same room at the hotel as that in which the tragedy of December 24 was enacted. The slayer this time is James Nutt, Capt. Nutt's eldest son, who is now in jail. The scene in which the second awful tragedy occurred burst upon the community like a thunder clap, and was the work of an instant. Just as dusk was drawing on last evening and many people were passing along the street the sound of five pistol shots rang out upon the air, in the direction of the postoffice. In a moment everybody was running to the scene, and the word quickly passed along that Dukes was dead. The excited crowd gathered around the postoffice, and there, on the floor, lay the lifeless body of Nicholas Lyman Dukes. The work was done so quickly, and so paralyzing was its effect upon those who witnessed it, that it was difficult to get the correct story. Officer Frank Pegg, George B. Hutchins, Alf Collins and others who saw the occurrence describe it as follows James Nutt was standing against a post inside of a room that adjoins the postoffice and fronts on Main street. The room was until lately occupied by a drug store and the front wall had been taken out, it being now fitted up as a room for the First National bank. While standing here Dukes came down the street from the direction of the Jennings Hotel, walking briskly with a cane under his arm, and just as he turned the corner toward the postoffice Nutt stepped down to the outside,

PULLED A REVOLVER

and fired two shots at him in rapid succession. Dukes looked around and started to run into the postoffice door, whereupon Nutt fired again and followed in close pursuit. Just as Dukes got inside of the postoffice his assailant fired two more shots and Dukes fell heavily to the floor upon his face. E A. Lingo rushed into the office and stooped to pick him up. Dukes tried to say something, but could only gasp, and in a moment he was dead. By this time officer Pegg reached young Nutt and laid hold of him. The latter struggled fiercely to free himself, but when he discovered it was an officer, he quietly yielded, and was taken to the jail. Duke's body was removed to his room at the hotel, where Coroner Sturgeon impaneled a jury. No testimony was taken, owing to the difficulty of getting witnesses, and the inquest adjourned till morning at 9 o'clock. On examining the body it was found that three of the balls entered the back near the side, under the left arm, and penetrated toward the heart, lodging in the breast, very near the skin, where they were cut out. They all three entered within two or three inches of each other. On Dukes' body was found his old pistol, the one with which he killed Nutt, and hanging to his suspender button in front was

A DIRK KNIFE.

The pistol used by young Nutt was a 32-caliber Smith & Wesson He had in his pocket another smaller pistol, which he refused to surrender to Officer Pegg, but gladly gave to Officer Martin. A fourth ball slightly grazed Dukes' leg near the left foot, while the fifth missed its aim, passed through one of the postoffice lock boxes and whistled pass the ears of Clerk George Miner, who was in the inside apartment Postmistress Johns and others were in the office, and several parties were standing about on the outside, so that it is almost marvelous that no one else was hurt The circumstances immediately preceding the shooting were these. After the evening trains came in Dukes was seen standing in front of the Jennings Hotel, chatting with some of his friends. When the mail was distributed Dukes started down to the postoffice, as is his custom about that time in the evening, for his mail The distance is only a square A short time after the train came in Nutt was seen starting up from Broadway toward the postoffice, which is about half way between the street and the Jennings Hotel. He spoke to friends as he passed along and nothing unusual was noticed in his manner. When he reached the well-known round cornered building in which the post office is located he stepped upon the inside and was standing there when Dukes came walking along. Not of those who witnessed the shooting are able to say whether Dukes saw Nutt before he fired or not. There is also a difference of opinion as to whether Dukes even looked back after the shots began, some saying that he started to run at once and never turned around

Probable Murder.

RICH HILL, MO., June 14.—The facts in a sensational affair have just come to light in this vicinity. One day last week, Mrs. Cooker, wife of Joseph Cooker, late in the employ of Keith & Perry, at their mine here, went to the proper county authorities with two children of Cooker's by a former wife, and stated that he had left her and them The children were taken charge of and investigations commenced, which led to the discovery that one H. C. Hensley, who it was said had left him, had become enamored of Mrs Cooker, and offered inducements to her to elope with him. This she refused to do and she claims that finding persuasion was fruitless he said he would kill him (Cooker), exhibiting, as he spoke, a pair of brass knuckles and a dirk knife Shortly after this Crooker mysteriously disappeared and has not been heard of since It is reported that a suit of clothes spattered with blood had been found some six miles east of here in a thick woods. Hensley has been arrested and there is no doubt but what the matter will be cleared up soon.

Confessed Murder

SPRINGFIELD, MO, June 14.—Wm. Magill was brought up from Ozark yesterday afternoon and lodged in jail, on his own confession before a Justice of the Peace, the man who killed his companion, Milum Dunlap, two weeks ago, and concealed his body in a sand bank on the James River, which the recent freshet washed out. The two were employed by Jacob Garten to haul sand, and, according to Magill's statement they became involved in a quarrel, when Dunlap struck him with a shovel and he returned the blow with an ax, killing him. Pushing the body in a hole, he covered it up with sand and left it, reporting to his employer that his comrade had gone to Arkansas. The prisoner exhibits no remorse.

A Prisoner Attempts Suicide.

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., June 14.—A rather extraordinary attempt at suicide occurred here night before last. A supposed criminal, named Thos. P. Murkison (colored), was brought here in charge of Marshal Samples from Arkadelphia, on the charge of grand larceny, and placed in our county jail. During the night the prisoner pretended to be in great agony, and prevailed upon the jailer to procure some morphine, which, on receiving, he partook of with suicidal intent, as afterwards proven by the following letter:

"DEAR FATHER: As I am in this trouble and not guilty of it, I kill myself rather than go to the State House for two or three years. Good-by to all; I will bid you adieu. Tell all of my friends that I died like a man. Please take my body and bury it by the side of my mother. If you please, send this to Arkadelphia, Ark., to Thos. Murkison. Tell Della that I love her until death. Direct to Arkadelphia, Clark County.

THOS. P. MURKISON."

It is a surprise to the medical fraternity that he has so far survived, and his case is not considered entirely hopeless. The dose was a drachm and a half of morphine. Job Pritchard, deputy sheriff, has been in attendance upon the sufferer all the time.

Burned to Death.

DES MOINES, Io., June 14.—About three weeks ago, four miles from this city, in Bloomington Township, a farm hand was going to an adjacent farm and on the way came upon a fine horse eating at a straw stack, and near by a well-dressed man asleep. Upon being aroused he said he had become tired and was resting to let his horse eat. Soon after the owner of the farm set the stack on fire on the side opposite to the man and horse, to burn it up. On removing the debris of the stack Tuesday the supposed ashes and parts of bones of a human body were found, and it is supposed the man had crawled into the stack and was burned. The horse escaped, and was taken up as an estray several miles distant. No clue for identification.

WASHINGTON NEWS.

An Important Patent Suit—What is to be Done With the Captured Apaches.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14.—Quite a large audience assembled in the room of the Attorney General at the Interior Department yesterday afternoon to listen to arguments by Hon. Roscoe Conkling and ex-Secretary Boutwell in a patent case. It has become a common thing for Mr. Conkling to appear before the Secretary of the Interior in the capacity of attorney, and he always attracts a large and interested assembly of admirers. The case argued was a very important one to inventors. The question involved the reopening of the case of Runipff and Groessler against Koehler, decided by the Secretary of the Interior in April last. The appellants requested the issuance of a commission to the United States Consul General at Elberfield, Germany, to take testimony to show the date of their invention. The Secretary affirmed the decision of the Commissioner of Patents, denying the issuance of a commission, holding that in considering a foreign invention in its ratio to an American invention to determine the first inventor, not the actual date of the former, but the date when it was patented or described in a printed publication, is the point to be kept in view. In this case the invention is patented in England, not at the date of the provisional specification, but when the completed specification is filed. He further held that testimony which would show a date of actual invention in a foreign county earlier than the date when the completed specification was filed would be immaterial in an interference. Mr. Conkling argued against allowing the appellants to take testimony, on the ground that the testimony it is sought to introduce would be immaterial. since, as held by Secretary Teller, if it were, and should show a date of actual invention earlier than the dates of the applications of Koehler, such showing could not interfere with his right to patent under his application. Mr. Boutwell took the opposite view. The arguments were very animated, and bristled with numerous sarcasms and cutting retorts which Mr. Conkling is so capable of administering.

Army and Navy Affairs.

WASHINGTON, June 14.—Lieut. Garlington, who is to command the Greeley relief expedition, left here Tuesday for New York. He was very much distressed about the desertion of Book and Bolton, two of the enlisted men selected and trained for the special service. They had been in training for three months. Some time ago Sergt. Hall, also one of the enlisted men, broke his arm, and was thus disabled. Thus Lieut. Garlington leaves New York with only nine of the twelve enlisted men who had been ordered to duty on the expedition.

CROOK.

Referring to Gen Crook's successful expedition, Gen. McKeever, acting adjutant-general, said: "I think, when the truth becomes known, the fact will be shown that Gen. Crook was at the front with the scouts during all the fighting. Gen Crook is an exceedingly modest officer, but he is full of lash and vim, and his age, above 53 years, adds stability to his prowess as a commander of troops."

The Savage Prisoners.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13.—What to do with the hostile Apaches brought in by Gen. Crook is now the troublesome proposition before the Indian Bureau. It is probable that they will be kept guarded near where they are for some days, at least until it is decided how to dispose of them. It is not unlikely, according to department officials, that as soon as the bucks arrive they will be taken clear away from the border, so that it will be impossible for them to get back into Mexico. There is plenty of room for them in the Indian Territory, it is said, where the Comanches have been finally cornered, or they may be put with the Navajos in northern New Mexico. There will be some difficulty at present in keeping them anywhere contentedly, from the fact that four-fifths of those captured by Crook are women and children and the bucks are still out.

Fredericks Dead.

KANSAS CITY. MO, June 14.—George Fredericks, the variety hall proprietor, who was shot Friday night by Orth H. Stein, city editor of the Evening Star, died last night at 9 o'clock. Around his death-bed stood his wife and two children, his sister and three brothers and his aged mother, and the grief they gave vent to when his wife threw up her hands and said "He is dead" was heartrending. His death occasioned little surprise. The only wonder is that a man could live at all after a forty-calibre ball had passed through his brain

Stein was visited in his cell after the death of Fredericks, and he declared that there was no more sincere mourner in the city than himself. He was very sorry that he fired the shot, and had the deepest sympathy for the wife and children of the dead man. He regretted that Fredericks had not been able to make a statement as he believed that he would have told the truth. He never feared Fredericks return to life and consciousness, and was really anxious to have him make a statement.

More About Nickerson.

PHILADELPHIA, June 1.—J. A. Dean, of the United States Army, stationed in this city, has obtained a certified copy of the records in the late proceedings in the Nickerson divorce case. Among the papers were included Nickerson's letters to his wife and the court's decree setting the divorce aside. The papers will be used in the coming court martial. The letters were all written after the proceedings in divorce had been entered. Nevertheless, they nearly all begin "My dear wife," and close with reference to Nickerson as husband. Many of them are signed "Selden," one of Nickerson's names. He dropped the name when he entered the army and uses it only when writing to relatives or near friends. The subject matter of the letter is such as a devoted husband might write to a loving wife. Major Nickerson was in the city nearly all last week. He started for Baltimore after Judge Thayer had blasted all his hopes of retaining his position in the army by an absolute refusal to permit the law to be diverted from its usual course. He is thought to be still in Baltimore.

Indignant Citizens.

INDIANAPOLIS. Ind., June 14.—Frank Meyers, of Anderson, Ind., brother to Capt. Meyers, Secretary of State, was in the city yesterday and reports that town in a state of tumult over the brutal treatment of David Cosher by the constables and squires Monday. Cosher was sleeping off a drunk when Constables Brady and Donerty assaulted him brutally, dragged him to the Squire's office, thumping him at every step and had him fined. Tuesday night an indignation meeting was held at the court house and a committee of five was appointed to request the resignation of the two constables named, of Squires Ditz and Crittenberger and of Prosecuting-Attorney Kissingen. The indignant citizens also emphasized their requests for the resignations by threatening to resort to other means to vacate the offices if a prompt response was not forthcoming.

The Mine Fire.

JOLIET, Ill., June 14 —The fire in the mine at Braidwood was finally extinguished yesterday morning The men who were missing and whose lives it was feared had been lost have been accounted for, and it is now believed that all the men escaped. The loss to the company is very heavy, all their mules, building and machinery in the shaft having been destroyed and great damage done to the shaft itself. It will be weeks before the mine will be again in operation.

Attempted Suicide.

TUSCOLA, Ill, June 14.—William Matthews, a farmer, living near Camargo, attempted to commit suicide in that village yesterday morning by shooting himself in the head with a revolver. The ball was extracted and it is thought that he will recover. No cause is assigned for committing the rash act.

Gresham an L.L. D.

INDIANAPOLIS. Ind., June 14 —Wabash College, at Crawfordsville, and the State University, at Bloomington, yesterday conferred the degree of L. L. D. on Postmaster General Gresham. The Judge is spending this week at home, but it is fair to say he had no idea this double installment of honor would be his.

EDUCATIONAL.

Closing Exercises of a School of Almost World-Wide Fame.

ST. LOUIS, June 14 —The Manual Training School is an institution of more than local reputation, and the novelty of its system of educational work, as well as the interest felt in it, drew a large number of visitors for the exhibition of drawings and shopwork opened yesterday morning, and still larger numbers were in attendance to-day, when, in addition to the exhibition features, regular graduating exercises were held. In yesterday's exercises the machine-shop practice proved the most interesting feature, the skill and quickness with which the young artisans performed their appointed tasks surprising those unfamiliar with the methods of the school. The exhibition proved in the nature of a test of the capabilities of the students, no one knowing in advance to what particular work he was to be assigned. In one of the rooms specimens of the finished woodwork of the pupils were shown, and in the blacksmith shop the young forgers showed what they could do in the working of iron. Five steam engines, the patterns and finishing of which were all made by the young men in the school, were shown in active operation, and their workmanship was such as to do credit to the most skillful of machinists. Much of the work of the members of the school during the year has gone into the equipment of the shop, and the machinery and tools in daily use have been made largely by the students. The exhibition of the year's work in mechanical and free-hand drawing occupies several rooms in the part of the building devoted to recitation purposes, and is pronounced remarkably good by those competent to judge.

The exercises were conducted under the direction of the following gentlemen: Algebra, Mr. Newland, History, Mr. Booth; English essays, Mr. Vaughan; wood work Mr Roeder and Mr Swafford, forging, Mr Jones, Machine tool work, Mr. Geo G. B Woodward The exercises and exhibition were conducted under the direction of Prof C M Woodward, who is an enthusiast in these special branches of instruction, and to his untiring efforts the remarkable efficiency of the pupils is to be credited to a great extent.

About fifty young men have already been examined for admission to the school next year, and it is anticipated that there will be no difficulty in the securing of one hundred new members for next year, all of whom will be fully up to the standard required for admittance The class that goes out this year is the first one to graduate, and it includes twenty-nine young men, well fitted to compete with the best in the practice of the manual arts.

High Waters.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark June 14.—The Arkansas river is a booming high, having risen in the last thirty-six hours about 30 inches, and is still rising This rise is on a high river, as it had been going down very slowly from banks full when this began. Information from the head of the river reports all the streams full from the frequent heavy rains there. The probability is that the river will be much higher at this point and others below. Many of the plantations in the counties of Jefferson, Lincoln and Arkansas and Desha are inundated, and much loss will be sustained in the growing cotton and corn. The river is at this time but a very few inches lower than it was at its highest stage in the spring.

Strikers in Court.

COLLINSVILLE, Ill., June 14.—Mrs. Mary Belcher, Mrs. Chas. Heck, Ben Keiser, Wm. Woods. Thos. McCormack and Wm. Barlow were arraigned yesterday before Justice Robinson at the instigation of the employes of the Abbey Coal Company, but, owing to the absence of some of the principal witnesses, the trial was continued. The parties arrested were all strikers or the wives of strikers. They are at liberty on their own recognizance. Otherwise there is no change in the position of the strikers.

Decatur's Claims.

The Masonic Benevolent association of central Illinois is in session at Mattoon and Decatur is represented by W. H. Linn, J. A. Barnes, E. C. Gay, and other Masonic brethren. They are there to attend the meeting, and to secure if possible the location of the headquarters of the association in Decatur. They will argue in favor of Decatur:

1st. Because from its size, business enterprise, central location and unlimited railroad facilities Decatur offers incomparably more advantages for the rapid growth and general prosperity of the association than can be expected or hoped for in its present contracted and inaccessible locality.

2d. Because in the forced retirement of Bros. Clark and Anderson (whether justifiable or not) from the position of president and secretary, as well as from the directory, an unsatisfactory feeling to say the least has been engendered between the two local factions that will forever retard the growth of our association while it remains in its present location.

WEDDING BELLS.

Marriage of Mr. James A. Phillips and Miss Nellie B. Harry Last Evening.

The social event of the month of roses in Decatur was witnessed last evening at 8:20 o'clock at the comfortable home of the bride's father, corner West Main and College streets, where MISS NELLIE B. HARRY, the accomplished daughter of Mr. William B. Harry, and MR. JAMES A. PHILLIPS, of Chicago, were united in marriage by Rev. D. P. Bunn, grandfather of the bride. The ring ceremony used was brief but very impressive, and was witnessed by a company of relatives who filled the gas-lit parlors and adjoining apartments. The responses were firm and clear, and after the Divine blessing had been invoked on the newly made husband and wife, congratulations were in order, and they were of the warmest character. The bridal party entered the front parlor while Miss Nora Rockwell, of Taylorville, played Mendelssohn's grand wedding march. The couple stood upon a wide mat of fresh roses and moss, directly in front of a tall floral arch in the corner of the parlor, from the top of which was pendant a large marriage bell formed of white pinks and white flowers, a large calla lily serving as a clapper. Behind the arch were numerous blooming plants ranged upon a sloping flower stand, and against the walls on either side of the floral bell hung the portraits of the bride's parents. At the base of the arch on both sides of the mat of roses were arranged vases of pretty ferns. The decorations were very pretty.

The lovely bride was beautifully attired in a rich shrimp pink silk costume, short sleeves, generously trimmed with Duchesse lace, the ornaments being tea roses and smilax. The bride wore tinted gloves reaching above the elbows, and carried a bouquet of flowers and a white and pink fan. The groom was attired in conventional black.

Those present were relatives of the contracting parties—William B. Harry; Mrs. A. Phillips, of Chicago, mother of the groom; Miss Nancy Phillips, of Cincinnati; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Boatman, Mr. George Wunder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Horne and Miss Ella Horne, of Chicago; Mr. J. C. Boatman, of Huron, Dakota; Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Rockwell, and daughter and son, Miss Nellie and Dean, of Taylorville; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. I. Harry, and Mr. Harry Maltby and Miss Minnie Malty, of Lincoln; also Rev. and Mrs. D. P. Bunn, Mrs. Elizabeth Betzer, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Betzer, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Bunn, Mr. and Mrs. Benton Blackstone, Capt. J. S. Post, George Harry, Mr. and Mrs. A. Maxwell, Mr. Frank D. Caldwell, Mrs. Geo. I. Harry, Jacob Harry and daughter, Miss Amelia.

A sumptuous wedding repast was served in the large dining room. It embraced all the obtainable delicacies of this fruitful season in great abundance, and was served under the personal direction of Mrs. Maxwell, assisted by a number of affable ladies. The bride's cake was cut by Mrs. Phillips and afterward all about the festal board received a generous slice of it, and also of the groom's cake. A number of congratulatory telegrams from friends in Chicago and New Mexico were read at the table by Mr. J. C. Boatman.

The remaining hours of the happy occasion were passed in social conversation and a moderate indulgence in terpsichorean pleasures, for which excellent violin and piano music was supplied by Mr. Rockwell and his accomplished daughter, Miss Nellie.

The bride was the recipient of a fine array of useful and beautiful gifts, but they were not displayed.

Mr. Phillips, the groom, is a bright young man of fine personal address, who has frequently visited Decatur during the past six years. He is a native of Cincinnati, Ohio, and is a son of the late Capt. W. B. Phillips, who in his lifetime was a prominent and well-known steamboat owner and navigator of the Ohio and Mississippi rivers. Mr. Phillips is a commercial traveler for the wholesale house of A. A. Devore & Son, Chicago, importers of woolen goods, etc. His territory embraces the western states and territories.

The bride is a native of Decatur, intelligent, light-hearted and a perfect little lady, who has a wide circle of friends in this and neighboring cities. Her father being a member of the planing mill firm of Mills & Harry, is a highly respected citizen in easy circumstances, and has been very indulgent to his daughter, giving her a good education and supplying her every want.

At midnight Mr. and Mrs. Phillips, accompanied by friends, took their departure for Chicago, over the Wabash road, where they will make their home for the present. They take with them the best wishes of many Decatur friends, and the benediction of the REPUBLICAN is—

"May all the wedded joys
That innocence imparts
Descend like snow-white doves
And nestle in their hearts."

Two of the four stylish cars to be used on the new street railway line arrived in the city last evening from the east, and are now at the depot. They have closed platforms in front for the use only of the driver, and a platform at the rear large enough to accommodate not more than three persons. There will be three cars of this style put on the line, and each will have the "pay box" arrangement in front, and each passenger will be compelled to drop his fare in the box. The cars are not of the bobtail style, but are an improvement that will be appreciated by the public. The company will also have in use one larger car, with double platforms, to be used on that portion of the line where there are no turn-tables. There are 13 corners or curves on the route now being built. The track laying is in progress to-day on Water street, in front of the First M. E. church.

Taken to the Poor House.

A crippled woman named Mrs. Mary Wheeler, aged 20 years, having in her arms an infant 14 months old, arrived in Decatur this morning on an early train from Champaign. Soon after her arrival she went to a drug store to purchase arsenic and laudanum, which poisons she intended to use to end the earthly career of herself and babe. The druggist refused to sell her the poison, and subsequently she was taken in charge by an officer. Marshal Mason took her to Dr. Sibley's office, when it was found that Mrs. Wheeler's right ankle had been badly fractured and that she was otherwise injured. The wounds were properly dressed by Dr. Sibley, and by order of Supervisor Hill the mother and child were taken to the poor farm, where they will remain for the present. A week ago Mrs. Wheeler, who says her husband has been running a bawdy house at Ft. Collins, Col., and is now in Alaska, got aboard a train on the L. B. & W. road at Champaign, and had her baby with her. She intended going to Bloomington. While the train was going at full speed—25 miles an hour—the woman left her baby in the seat and jumped off the train. There was great commotion among the passengers over the sensational episode, which was certainly an attempt at suicide. The train was stopped and the woman picked up. It was found that her right leg was broken at the ankle and that she had received several serious bruises by the fall. She was taken to Bloomington and given surgical attention. She was sent back to Champaign, and yesterday she was sent to Decatur, arriving here this morning as stated. Mrs. Wheeler is not in her right mind. She is manifestly mentally deranged and should be closely watched. The baby seems healthy. Everything considered, it's a wonder it is alive. Mrs. W. is not a dissolute character. She has undoubtedly experienced much domestic trouble, and her condition is such as to excite general sympathy and pity.

The Entertainment To-Night.

The following is the programme for the entertainment to be given by the ladies of Stapp's Chapel at the tabernacle, commencing to-morrow evening:

FRIDAY NIGHT.

The Peak Sisters from Alaska, formerly of Pike's Peak, As Given by the Young Ladies of Vassar College.

The admission fee has been placed at the small sum of 10 cents, and all should attend.

Lunch will be served each evening at five o'clock.

YESTERDAY Mrs. Lucy A. Drake brought suit in the circuit court against Moses Pettengill & Co., of Peoria, for false imprisonment, placing damages at $10,000. The suit grows out of the arrest of Mrs. Drake, last winter, at the instance of the Peoria firm, who charge her with fraudulently disposing of a stock of goods at Warrensburg. Mrs. Drake was brought to Decatur from Warrensburg one Saturday night, at 12 o'clock, in the midst of a rain storm, and kept in custody over Sunday until Monday forenoon, when her husband succeeded in securing bail. Mr. Drake asserts that the arrest of his wife was a bull-dozing scheme, and now it is their purpose to make P. & Co. pay damages.

Not Forgotten.

A Taylorville correspondent of the State Journal writes that paper as follows: "Miss Emma Bond received a collection Tuesday from Chicago, which indicates that she has not been forgotten. It was a draft for $350, which had been collected by one man, whose name could not be learned. Her condition is yet very critical."

ASSESSOR SMITH reports that there are 16,646 acres of land in Decatur township outside of the city that he has assessed at $347,705, or a little less than $21 per acre. There are 400 horses in the township outside of the city assessed at $18,000; there are only 186 sheep in the township outside of the city, and 840 cattle. Mr. Smith has also discovered that there are moneys and credits in the township outside of the city which he has valued at $12,150.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Albert Barnes visited Piatt county today on business.

Mrs. W. J. Condell arrived home this noon from St. Louis, where she has been visiting her son and his family.

Miss Minnie Lewis, who has been attending a female seminary in the east, is home for the summer.

Mrs. John Black and children, of Springfield, are in the city visiting relatives.

W. W. Ewald, late of Fort Dodge, Ia., a brother of Manager Ewald, is a new lightning operator in the Western Union office.

Herman Miller is to be made superintendent of the Wabash dining cars on this division, with headquarters in Decatur.

Mrs. D. D. Snyder, of Atlanta, Ga., a sister of Mrs. I. D. Jennings, arrived in the city last night from the south. She is a guest of her niece, Mrs. F. W. Haines.

James Veale, the "French Cutter from Cork," is going about the streets attired in an Oscar Wilde costume, wearing knee breeches and shoes with bright buckles. It is needless to state that he attracts much attention.

Hon. and Mrs. R. J. Oglesby came over from Lincoln yesterday, and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Ennis. The governor returned only recently from his trip to Colorado, and, we regret to learn, is not feeling very well.

DR. GOODWIN received a very warm reception last evening at the First M. E. Church prayer meeting, which was largely attended. The Doctor made a short talk to the new converts and offered prayer. There was a general rush for the altar at the close of the service, and all shook hands with the former pastor of the charge, now presiding elder of the Quincy district.

THE TOWN OF ANAPAUMA.

A Place of Rest and Recreation for Tired Rectors.

We have before us a circular letter giving the extract from Bishop Seymour's address to the Springfield Synod, with reference to the Episcopal summer resort, the town of Anapauma, located on the shore of Green Bay, Wisconsin, 14 miles north of the town of that name, and in a region of country represented to be unsurpassed for salubrity of climate, fertility of soil and beauty of scenery. A small hamlet, Bay City, is the nearest postoffice, a mile distant. The new town covers 18 acres, and is laid out in 65 nicely shaded lots, each 52x130 feet, a block being reserved on which an Episcopal chapel will be erected. Comfortable houses may be built on the lots at prices ranging from $350 to $500 and upwards, according to the number of rooms required. The avenues or streets are named "Springfield," "Decatur," "Bloomington" and "Cairo," and along the shore of the bay is the public highway. We quote from the circular: "It is hoped that every Parish and Mission in the Diocese will take immediate steps to secure a lot and build during this season or in the near future. They will furnish a place of recreation for the clergy and their families during the hot months and give to them that needed rest to which earnest and hard workers are justly entitled. We feel that if the clergy and their families could gain that short respite from labor which laymen seek, they would return to their posts so renewed in health and spirits that the gracious investment in their behalf would be more than repaid in renewed zeal and earnestness in the Divine work." Laymen are also invited to erect houses for their own use in Anapauma, the proceeds from the sale of lots to be used in the improvement of the grounds and building a chapel. The land cost $10,000, and it is now in charge of a board of trustees, whose members are Rt. Rev. George F. Seymour, S. T. D., LL. D., of Springfield; Rev. Walter H. Moore, rector of St. John's church, this city, and William J. Quinlan, secretary and treasurer, Decatur, Ill. Mr. Quinlan was mainly instrumental in providing for this attractive summer resort for the Episcopal clergy, and in his address alluded to Bishop Seymour refers to our fellow-townsman in a laudatory manner. There is great interest among Episcopalians with reference to Anapauma, and we have no doubt but in a short time the resort will be dotted with numerous cosy cottages, and that the town on Green Bay will be visited by large numbers of clergymen, their families and laymen each summer season.

BURT COX, son of E. E. Cox, jumped off a moving train at the Illinois Midland junction this morning and injured himself slightly. It was supposed that one of his arms was broken, but fortunately it was not. The boy was taken home in a wagon.

THE county lodge of Good Templars is in session to-day at Macon. Among the delegates in attendance from Decatur are Theo. Coleman and Miss Ida Coltrin.

AT the instance of Mrs. J. C. Robinson Henry Ahrans was arrested this morning by Marshal Mason. Ahrans is charged with disturbing the peace. He will have a hearing before Justice McGorray.

RILEY SCOTT was arrested last night and placed in the calaboose by Officers Kearney and Bailey. Riley is charged with firing off a pistol and also with resisting an officer.

THE CIRCUIT COURT.

May Term, 1883—Judge Smith, of Champaign, Presiding.

THURSDAY, JUNE 14.

Court convened at 8:30 a. m.

PRISONERS SENTENCED.

Robt. Burns, indicted for petit larceny, pleaded guilty to the charge on the 19th day of the term. He was brought into court to-day and sentenced to imprisonment in the county jail for 10 days and to stand committed until the costs are paid.

Wm. McGinness, who pleaded guilty to petit larceny in spiriting away a chair displayed in front of Butzein's furniture store, was sentenced to the county jail for 30 days and to stand committed until the costs are paid.

COMMON LAW DOCKET.

Moses Pettengill & Co. vs. Lucy A. Drake; attachment; defendant defaulted under the declaration; trial by jury pending.

House Numbering.

Chas. O. Ebel & Co., who are doing the measuring of the streets for the proper house numbers are progressing as rapidly as possible. We would advise our citizens to instruct the lady of the house to select the style of number desired when called on, as they are generally at home during the day, while the men are only home at meal time. As the parties doing the measuring do all the platting, measuring and painting the names of the streets on the lamp posts free of charge, they should be well patronized and assisted in every way to gain time, which is valuable to them.

Notice to Tax-Payers.

The supervisor, town clerk and assessor of the town of Decatur will meet at the town clerk's office in the city of Decatur on Monday, July 25, 1883, to correct and review the assessment of said town for 1883. All persons considering themselves aggrieved will attend and show cause.

For this time we choose a more innocent subject, say a "sheep" and tell you a new story never related before. Here it goes:

Mary had a little lamb,
His fleece was white as snow.

Why! we hear you say, "that is old!" So it is. But would it not be just as old if we was to say the ONE-PRICE CLOTHING HOUSE IS THE MOST POPULAR HOUSE IN DECATUR? For this is known all over as well as Mary's lamb, and to advertise as others do, is superfluous, because everybody in want of

PROCEEDINGS OF THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS.

Special June Term.

FIRST DAY—JUNE 5, 1883.

The Board of Supervisors of Macon county met at the court house, in said county, on Tuesday, June 5th, 1883, at one o'clock p. m., pursuant to the following call:

DECATUR, ILL., May 12, 1883.

GEO. P. HARDY, County Clerk:
You will please call a special meeting of the Board of Supervisors, to be held at the court house, in the city of Decatur, on Tuesday, June 5th, 1883, one o'clock p. m.

On motion of Supr. VanLeer, Supr. Hill was appointed purchasing agent for the county.

The Judiciary committee made the following report which was adopted:

To the Hon. Board of Supr. of Macon Co.: We, your committee on Judiciary, to whom was referred the bill of W. C. Johns for collecting claims—recommend that the same be allowed, as we have consulted competent authority, who all agree that the same was outside of his official duties. All of which is respectfully submitted.

C. H. GARVER,
J. VANGUNDY,
PATRICK GRAHAM,
GEO. T. OUTTEN.

Supr. Hoyt offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That an order be drawn on the County Treasurer for eighty [$80.00] dollars in favor of V. Barber in payment for his services as superintendent of the poor farm for the year ending June 1st, 1883.

Supr. Freeman offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That the committee on public buildings procure desks and racks for the index books in circuit clerks office.

Supr. Hoyt offered the following resolution which was adopted:

Resolved, That the committee on public buildings be instructed to confer with Orlando Powers in reference to putting Steam Heating Apparatus in the court house, also ascertain cost of heating jail by steam, and report to the board at its next meeting.

On motion of Supr. Freeman the proposition of the publishers of the Republican, Review and Herald, to publish proceeding of the board of supervisors at $50.00 per annum, each, was accepted, proceedings to be inserted in daily and weekly editions.

The commissioners of highways of South Wheatland petitioned the board of supervisors to appropriate $400.00 to aid in constructing a bridge across Sand creek, and repair the grade between that point and Maffett's bridge.

Supr. Freeman moved that the prayer of the petitioners be granted the aye and nays being called resulted as follows: Voting aye, Davis, Freeman, Hill, Hoyt, Michl, Outten, Rosengrants, Ward and the chairman 9.

Voting nay, Brown, Funk, Graham, Hays, Johnson, Manecke, VanGundy and VanLeer 8. Supr. Evans, Garver and McReynolds being absent. Motion declared lost.

Supervisor Van Leer moved to reconsider the vote just taken. Carried.

Supr. Van Leer then moved that the petition be referred to the committee on roads and bridges, with instruction to report at the July meetings. Motion prevailed.

W. J. McGee, stewart of the poor, made the following report which was received and placed on file:

Number of paupers received since last report, 12; number discharged, 12; number died, 1. Remaining at date 24 males and 10 females. Total, 34.

V. Barber, Supt. of poor farm made the quarterly report which shows:

Cash on hand March 6th		$ 30 09
Cash received since that date		202 26
Total		$231 35
Cash paid out	$161 97
Cash balance on hand	169 38	$331 35

Report received and placed on file.

On motion of Supr. Freeman, the matter of putting down a brick walk in front of the jail, was referred to the committee on public buildings with power to act.

On motion of Supr. Van Leer, the board adjourned until the second Monday in July, 1883, one o'clock p. m. GEO. P. HARDY, Clerk.

EVERY MAN HIS OWN BOSS.

How to Promote Personal Power—A New Radical Reformer.

"There is no provision in the Divine economy for political bosses!"

With a bang of his fist, and in the voice of a man who had made up his mind on the subject, Rev. James Chambers, of Cavalry Presbyterian Church, Harlem, recently opened his sermon with this announcement. He was right. The only boss authorized by the Book is mentioned in these words: "He who ruleth his own spirit is greater than he who taketh a city."

Commonly, the better side of men is subject to the despotism of the worse side. Bad passions, bad humors, mean jealousies and base revenges are all bosses. One of the worst of bosses is bile. What is most depressing in philosophical or theological thought is due to it. Old General Debility is another tyrannical boss. He lashes men who are naturally good until they become unnaturally bad or miserably weak.

Concerning his deliverance from this bondage, Rev. S. P. Lewis, pastor of the Eighth Street Baptist Church, St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I was suffering from exhaustion and general debility. As an invigorant I used PARKER'S GINGER TONIC. I never met with anything so effective. It is an elegant family medicine. I take a bottle in my valise when I go on my annual vacations."

PARKER'S GINGER TONIC neither intoxicates nor promotes a desire for strong drink. The most pronounced temperance people use and praise it for this reason alone. It cures Malarial Fevers, Consumption, Rheumatism, and all diseases of the Blood.—Also weaknesses peculiar to women. Its action is prompt and pervasive. Test it once, and you will adopt it as a home remedy. Prices, 50 cts. and $1 a bottle. HISCOX & Co., Chemists, New York. May19—dw&s w4w

TRUE Temperance

Is not signing a pledge or taking a solemn oath that cannot be kept, because of the non-removal of the cause—liquor. The way to make a man temperate is to kill the desire for those dreadful artificial stimulants that carry so many bright intellects to premature graves, and desolation, strife and unhappiness into so many families.

It is a fact! BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, a true non-alcoholic tonic, made in Baltimore, Md., by the Brown Chemical Company, who are old druggists and in every particular reliable, will, by removing the craving appetite of the drunkard, and by curing the nervousness, weakness, and general ill health resulting from intemperance, do more to promote temperance, in the strictest sense than any other means now known.

It is a well authenticated fact that many medicines, especially 'bitters,' are nothing but cheap whiskey vilely concocted for use in local option countries. Such is not the case with BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It is a medicine, a cure for weakness and decay in the nervous, muscular, and digestive organs of the body, producing good, rich blood; health and strength. Try one bottle. Price $1.00.
